BIRDS ARE NOT DISTURBED BY
WAR'S HORRORS

Feathered Songsters Not
Frightened in the Least by Bursting Shells.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)
PARIS, Feb. 23.—Bird life along the battle front appears to have been little disturbed by the continual thundering of the guns. Birds disappeared from the war zone after the battle of the Marne, and some naturalists attributed their migration to the din of war. They came back again, however, and little by little accustomed themselves to the noise of explosives and even found an advantage in being close to the conflict where there is ample nourishment around the soldiers' quarters. Doves and wild pigeons are the most abundant, while there are many cuckoos, thrushes, crows, magpies and jays. Starlings are very common, resting in trees as close as they find them in the trenches. Monsieur Louis Rousseau, a well known ornithologist, has discovered that the war has changed the character of these birds and made them thrifty. He has found their nests in the holes of dead oaks, with a provision of bread crumbs stored away prudently underneath. Doves fly about between the two lines, paying no attention to the bursting shrapnel; and none of the appear to be afraid of either aeroplanes, observation balloons or dirigibles.

Buzzards are everywhere along the front, and they seem to find particular amusement in circling around the observation balloons. Monsieur Rousseau finds game very abundant in the section of the front where he is, due partly to the suppression of shooting since the war began, but mostly, he thinks, to the invasion which drove game ahead of it toward the Marne. Deer and stags are very numerous, in spite of a great deal of poaching on the part of the peasants. On the other hand, rabbits are very rare. Wild boars are seen in places they were never known to frequent; a litter of wolves was found in a ditch beside the road near which territorialists were digging a trench, and two others were found in an abandoned trench 1,500 yards away from any stream. Polecats, martins and weasels have almost entirely disappeared, their places taken by rats and mice.

LEADING HOTEL KEEPER OF JAPAN AND WIFE HERE TO STUDY U.S. HOTEL METHODS

Mr. and Mrs. Aisaku Hayashi.

Mr. Aisaku Hayashi, chief director of the Imperial Hotel at Tokyo and said to be the leading boniface of Japan, is in this country to study American hotel methods. He says that while the hotels of Japan are modern and well equipped, according to European standards, his guests are beginning to demand these personal attentions and niceties which go to make the hotels of this country so attractive and alluring.

Put June in every room

What is more of a signal triumph of common sense and comfort in living needs than to know in pinching-cold weather, that at the windows and along exposed walls and hallways are stationed those invincible heat guardians—AMERICAN Radiators?

These radiant sentinels of cozy heat are ever alert to overwhelm the attacks of wind and cold; turning a house into a haven of comfort, in which little folks thrive and play, while big folks rest or work at ease.

"Else how had the world avoided pinching cold?"

AMERICAN & IDEAL
RADIATORS & BOILERS

The unique regulating features which go with these heating outfits insure even temperature day and night, and coal wastes are prevented.

There are no parts to warp, bulge, univet or loosen; put together with iron-to-iron water-ways which are leakless—no packed or riveted joints. AMERICAN Radiators with their tightly screwed connections have no known limit of endurance.

A No. 5-22 W. IDEAL Boiler and 400 ft. of 3/4" in. AMERICAN Radiators costing the owner $198 were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which vary according to climatic and other conditions.

One of our modern outfits can be quickly put in without annoyance to occupants or interfering with present heater until new outfit is ready to fire.

A lifetime of lowest heating cost!

Really, if you could see, stacked up before you today, your prospective coal, repair and other bills from old-fashioned heating for next ten years, you would insist immediately on putting a moderate investment into an IDEAL-AMERICAN outfit which would make all your future winters worth while. Make your in-door winters softly warm as moon-lit June! Send today for "Ideal Heating" (free) giving much valuable information on fuel economies—for homes, churches, stores, schools and other buildings. Act now!

The fire in an IDEAL Boiler need not be restricted to an entire heating season. One charging of coal easily lasts through the longest zero night. There can be no fuel waste.

SHOULDER SHAKE
GETS HIM IN JAIL

Foreigner Who Ran from Officer
Accused of Importing Keg of Brandy.

A ten gallon keg of brandy in a trunk has been added to the large stock at the county jail and a foreigner whose name has not yet been registered, is imprisoned there awaiting a trial, or hearing, under a charge of violating the prohibition law by trying to import the liquor in trunks as railroad baggage.

Somebody gave a tip by telephone to Sheriff Ross F. Stout about midnight Monday that a trunk full of liquor had arrived at the baggage room of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad station. The sheriff and two deputies, Clarence Vannoy and Laco Wolfe, went thither at once, but remained in hiding to see who would claim the trunk with a check.

When train No. 1 arrived, a railroad officer went through the passenger station, aroused sleepers and inspected their tickets to see whether they were waiting for No. 1. When he shook the shoulders of a certain foreigner, the latter took a look at the latter's brass buttons and fled from the place. The officer had to catch the train and let him go.

Having had a good look at the foreigner, the county officers noticed which way he went and returned to their beds, but soon after daylight they went up the railroad line to Byron and found the man who had departed so suddenly from the passenger station. He was put under arrest and taken to the county jail.

RETAINS DEPUTIES.

SON BORN

To Mr. and Mrs. Marmaduke
Wells at Home on Corner
Sixth and Main Streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Marmaduke Wells are the proud parents of an eight pound son the clerk left at their home at the corner of Sixth and Main streets, at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. Mr. Wells's many friends are calling the youngster George Washington Wells in honor of the immortal Washington on whose birthday he was born, but Mr. and Mrs. Wells have named him Horace Marmaduke Wells. This name is a combination of the names of his grandfather, Horace L. Wells, and his father, Marmaduke Wells. Mother and babe are getting along nicely and it is thought that Mr. Wells will be able to resume his work at the Wells Haymaker drug store in a few days.

FARM COMMITTEES

Are Created in France to Aid
Farmers and Their Wives in Systematic Way.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—Monsieur Meline minister of agriculture, has just promulgated a decree constituting agricultural committees in each of the rural communes, to take charge of the cultivation of unseeded land. The committees are to be elected by the farmers of the commune, with the women having rating rights the same as men. They are not only charged with the responsibility of assuring cultivation of every acre of tillable land in the commune, but also with the advising and aiding farmers or farmers' wives who may require help.

DRUNKEN LEPERS DIE.
